Former Wisley Airfield appeal clarification

Taylor Wimpey submitted an appeal for non-determination of its planning application (22/P/01175) for the former Wisley Airfield in April 2023 following a delay to the determination of the application.

Taylor Wimpey purchased the former Wisley Airfield site in March 2020 following its allocation in the Guildford Local Plan (site A35) adopted in April 2019, and subsequently agreed a Planning Performance Agreement (PPA) with the Council which anticipated determination of the application in March 2023. Under the PPA we have met with Guildford Borough Council alone to discuss the proposals on more than 50 separate occasions.

Having provided clarification information at the request of consultees we offered the council an extension to the PPA to provide time for the additional information to be reviewed, however, we did not receive a response to this offer. It should be noted that this further submission did not change the outcomes and assessments of the of the original planning application made in August 2022.
